

Safety Audits – from £450 plus VAT

At Soteria (UK) Ltd we endeavor to tailor our services to your exact requirements, which is why we invested significant time, money and effort into designing our very own audit system software. This means that you can specify the requirements of a safety audit to benchmark against well known management system models such as HS(G)65 and OHSAS 18001, or against legal standards and best practice guidance, or indeed your own internal standards. Whatever the requirements of the audit you can be assured that it will include a full management report with complimentary action plan.

Our bespoke audit system has the capability to generate a breakdown of the audit results which can be emailed to any person on site for same day feedback.

All our audits are formatted into a management report within hours of completion. The report contains detailed information on legal standards and best practice in addition to recommendations and priority action plans for each individual section of the audit. So call 0844 941 1108 today for your free no obligation consultation.

Key Benefits

- the option of choosing your own audit questions so that they match your management system
- compare audit results between different sites and track performance over time
- simple, easy to understand percentage and text answers backed-up with practical detailed guidance
- reference notes, findings, observations and answers all recorded for future reference
- Average time taken to complete the audit and produce a management report reduced by half
- saves time and money – guaranteed

“...it was agreed that what we required was an external safety audit to benchmark what the business had achieved so far and what else was required to ensure a robust health and safety management system. Soteria listened to our requirements and designed a safety audit specific to our business needs. The resulting management report and action plan was simple and uncomplicated allowing us to put in place a system of measures in order to comply with legal standards. All the way through the process Soteria were sensitive but firm in what we needed to do to achieve compliance, all in all a very worthwhile exercise and something we will have no hesitation in doing again”.

Rod Gamwell, Partner – AGP Accountants.

NB. All work above can be completed as part of our Unique Safety Advisor Service